PRC

Prevention Retention & Contingency

Strengthening families
throughout Lucas County

The Prevention, Retention, and Contingency (PRC) program was established in Ohio to help families overcome immediate barriers to achieving or maintaining self-sufficiency. The program was designed to provide benefits and services to needy families and low-income employed families who are in need of help with essential support to move out of poverty and become self-sufficient. The PRC program provides new opportunities to develop and implement creative and innovative strategies and approaches to remove families from a cycle of dependency on public assistance and into work. PRC, by design, has been developed to provide benefits and services that are not considered "assistance". When a benefit or service falls within the definition of "assistance", there is a set of consequences for the family, including time limits, child support assignment, and data reporting requirements. The PRC program provides non-recurrent, short-term benefits that are:

- ✓ Designed to deal with a specific crisis situation or episode of need.
- ✓ Not intended to meet recurrent or ongoing need

CHILD CARE CHOICE VOUCHER PROGRAM

A new program is being launched to support families with paying for childcare, who are over income for the state's Publicly Funded Child Care (PFCC) and whose gross monthly income is at or below 146% - 200% of the Federal Poverty Level. This voucher program is part of a larger initiative focused on increasing access to quality childcare and financial support services for families towards childcare costs.
